Tonight - Blissful - Side Effect

Tonight

Love is gonna find you, if you stay awake
Hope is gonna come but you have to be strong again
You say the days that mattered are over, it's all over
Your chance is up for grabs but you have to believe again

The stars used to shine a different way when we were young
You know they can shine the same way if you believe in tonight

Just set your soul free
The stars will shine the same way tonight

The world is moving fast though your dream remains
So many years have passed but the goal is still the same.
The stars used to shine a different way when we were young
You know they can shine the same way if you believe in tonight

I can feel the sun on my face, today, I'm moving on

The stars used to shine a different way when we were young
They can shine the same way if you believe in tonight

Blissful

All the life I see and it's gone
Thinking of all the words I've written to me
One more full journal and I'm done
Fading all the fear in me slowly

And when I falter, when I get colder,
The night's still bright, holy
Drifting away, I fall into blindness,
All is so blissful and holy, holy

All the life I see and it's gone
Thinking of all the words I've written to me
One more full journal and I'm done
Fading all the fear in me slowly

And when I falter, when I get colder,
The night's still bright, holy
Drifting away, I fall into blindness,
All is so blissful and holy, holy

Side Effect

It's a side effect of the way you loved me
It's a raw approach to the ways that you taught me

It's a side effect
It's a side effect
It's a side effect
It's a side effect
